Red

By the bottle

We are proud to showcase our selection of wines from four of Spain's best-known red wine producing regions. Each region has its own climate, viticulture and traditions, resulting in wines that are truly distinctive and reflect characteristics of the area in which those particular grapes are grown.

Bierzo

Bierzo, in Castilla y León, is one of Spain's newest wine hotspots, thanks to young winemakers who came here in the 1990s and revived a forgotten region. Today, the area produces fresh, balanced, fruity red wines made mainly from the red Mencía grape that occupies nearly two-thirds of the mountain vineyards and thrives on these mineral-rich soils.

Petit Pittacum Mencía, Bierzo (2016)	35
Pittacum Mencía, Bierzo (2012)	50
Pétalos del Bierzo Mencía, Bierzo (2015)	55
La Prohibición Garnacha Tintorera, Bierzo (2014)	75

A unique wine to Bierzo in Castilla y León, made using historically prohibited grapes in the region and not the majority grape, Mencía

Priorat

The vineyards of Priorat are planted on the sides of a Catalonian mountain. The high altitude and rocky nature of the soil adds regional characteristics to the wines and the vineyards sit on steep slopes, which means that the grape harvest must be done by hand. The dense, rich wines that are produced are certainly worth the extra effort!

GR-174 ♦ Garnacha & Syrah, Priorat (2017)	45
Camins del Priorat Garnacha, Cariñena & Cabernet Sauvignon, Priorat (2016)	55
Humilitat Epique Garnacha & Cariñena, Priorat (2013)	(magnum) 110

Ribera del Duero

Ribera del Duero, one of northern Spain's best-known wine-making regions, has been producing wine for thousands of years. Today, those wines are mostly reds made from the Tinto Fino grape, the local name for Tempranillo. Expect wines that are generally rich and bold and age exceptionally well.

Joven de Silos Tinto Fino, Ribera del Duero (2016)	39
Comenge Tinto Fino, Ribera del Duero (2016)	45
Matarromera Tinto Fino, Ribera del Duero (2014)	59
Alión Tinto Fino, Ribera del Duero (2014)	120
Vega Sicilia Único Tinto Fino, Ribera del Duero (2006)	350
Pingus Tinto Fino, Ribera del Duero (2011)	650
Pago de los Capellanes Tempranillo, Ribera del Duero (2014)	(magnum) 135

Rioja

The most well-known wine-making region in Spain is surrounded by mountains, which help to isolate and moderate the climate; perfect conditions for winemakers. The region as a whole enjoys a rich diversity of soil and climate, resulting in expressive and characterful wines. There are several different classifications of Rioja wine, including Reserva and Gran Reserva. The primary difference between them is the time spent in oak cask and bottle.

Monteleiva Crianza ♦ Tempranillo, Rioja (2015)	35
Montesa Crianza Garnacha, Rioja (2014)	40
Beronia Reserva Tempranillo & Graciano, Rioja (2013)	42
Zurbal Reserva ♦ Tempranillo, Rioja (2012)	45
