ABOUT US

Ibérica Leeds is particularly handsome, making it a popular spot for lunch, dinner and special occasion dining. Housed within the historic Hepper House, a Grade II-listed former auction house built in the 19th Century.

The space is bright and airy with high ceilings and stunning chandeliers. The skylight runs the entire length of the main dining room, flooding the restaurant with natural light throughout the day, while well-appointed plants, prints and pendant lighting add character and style.

The cocktail bar area is similarly impressive with a range of seating catered for cosy, intimate drinks, or even finishing up that work report!

The purpose-built private dining area is a spacious room decorated with blue and white pattered wallpaper, a grand wooden table, traditional furniture and huge framed portraits on the walls. The room seats up to 26 people, so is perfect for large private dinners including corporate events, weddings or family gatherings.

There are multiple group menus to choose from which all feature some of Iberica's most popular tapas plates, with the restaurant able to accommodate special menu and service requests when required.

Under the guidance of Michelin-starred Chef Director Nacho Manzano, our menu boasts flavours from across the Spanish peninsula, with a special nod to Manzano's Asturian roots featuring a selection of classic and contemporary tapas, artisan delicatessen and Valencian style rices.

The award-winning eclectic drinks list at Ibérica showcases wines from small boutique wineries alongside some of the pioneers in the Spanish wine making industry.
